Recruitment Information Websites

The Recruiter Campus website - <http://www.therecruitercampus.com/>

- This will have a lot of information for recruiters and gives great information for recruiting professionals, so review articles and gain insight from this website.

This website below gives you an understanding that recruiters and Account Executives are not just sales people and gives an insight to what skills recruiters and AE's should have.

Here is another website for you to browse and get even more insight on what our profession is all about.

<http://www.staffingindustry.com/>

Of course here is our website and feel free to see what we have on our official RHA Website.
